Four ERHS Music Groups Rock Roosevelt Center

by Anne Gardner

Four music groups from Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS) entertained an enthusiastic crowd in Roosevelt Center on Saturday, May 23. Band director Sally Wagner directed the jazz band in several numbers, then the Pearls, an a cappella singing group, performed two songs; the flute choir performed a few selections; and the Dixieland Combo closed the concert with their high-energy, toe-tapping music.

This concert was sponsored by Friends of the New Deal Café Arts, with support from the City of Greenbelt, as part of the Eileen Peterson concert series.

ERHS Senior Matches Brother In Winning Prized Scholarship

by Douglas Mangum

Congratulations are in order for Eleanor Roosevelt High School senior and Greenbelter Katherine “Katie” Warner for being selected as the 2015 recipient of the David Craig Memorial Scholarship. With Katie’s selection on Tuesday, May 19, she joined her brother Daniel (2013) as the second brother and sister winners of the scholarship, along with former recipients Corita and Nicholas Jones, also from Greenbelt.

Katie impressed the Board of Directors with her application’s narrative style as she spoke of her faith as being intertwined in everything she does. Her religious activities and community activities are tightly woven into her school and Greenbelt communities.

Katie’s athletic community consisted of the soccer, basketball and softball teams while attending Roosevelt for four years. She experienced a knee injury during her sophomore year that she says had a life-changing impact on her athletic participation. “Instead of quitting the soccer team and letting someone else take on the role of captain, I decided to continue to go to every practice and every game even though I was on the sidelines,” she says. She became a great source of encouragement and motivation to the team, learning from her coach that character says even more than talent.

Playing soccer the following season, she injured her other knee and concentrated on softball. Midway through her senior year, Katie felt sports no longer identified her. In a reference letter, Coach Patrick Gleason said, “the ability to work hard in all aspects of life does not come naturally to everyone, but for Katie, it is a way of life,” a life that is faith-based and geared toward people and sacrificial choices.

Katie gave up softball her senior year because her schedule was packed with plans for dual enrollment classes both at Eleanor Roosevelt and at Prince George’s Community College in the fall and the University of Maryland in the spring. Katie also wanted to be more active with TLC (Truth, Love, and Character), a Christian club at school that focused on serving others. Her focus changed to serving God in all that she did. As coach Gleason wrote, “It is her faith in others that allows her to approach friends and strangers alike with warmth and reassurance. And it is her faith in herself that has built an ‘I can do it’ attitude that will give her success in college, the workplace and life.”

Katie’s workplace at a local merchant who is synonymous with Greenbelt was showcased in her scholarship application, along with her involvement with a pilot program named AP Cambridge Capstone that develops critical thinking skills and applies them to team and individual projects.

Katie will enter Towson University this fall with 12 credits from the courses she completed

Greenbelt Theater Grand Reopening

Wow! It’s been almost 16 years since Shirley Temple’s “Little Miss Broadway” has been shown. I cannot tell you how excited my three-year-old daughter, Tinka, was to be part of the Shirley Temple look-alike contest before the movie shown on February 25, 2000. We practiced for two days to see how best to curl her hair and picked out a cute outfit from her new wardrobe. Tinka had just come to the U.S. from Bulgaria and this was her first trip to the movies. They declared all the girls winners! Greenbelt is an awesome place to live and grow up in with some very special memories. Tinka is now 18 but she may even stop by just for a trip down memory lane.

Letters

John Needed

While I was recently visiting a dog at the Greenbelt Animal Shelter, I noticed an employee rushing out the door to sprint down to the Police Station to use their rest room. It’s hard to understand why there isn’t something for the employees and volunteers to use while they’re going about their many chores in the shelter. Since there are now discussions underway about new turf, why not bring up a way for people at the shelter to answer the call of nature without running down the street? Could a little makeshift restroom with just the bare necessities be built or even a sani-john like the ones scattered all over the place? Even a commode with a folding door would work. The people at the shelter put in long, hot hours tending the needs of the forgotten creatures of the world, but it seems that their own basic needs are also forgotten.

Support Santos Family

As you know, the Santos family was hit by a terrific tragedy this past weekend. The family is part of our Franklin Park/Springhill Lake community and we are so sad about their loss. We know that the loss of a child is horrible and that this family is suffering from the tragedy. One child has died and another child is in critical condition. Both were students at our neighborhood school.

CampFire USA is collecting cards for the Santos family. They may be sent to the CampFire Office at 9176 Springhill Lane, Greenbelt, MD 20770. Please consider a sympathy card for the family for Alejandro and a cheery card of support for Leonardo who is in the 4th grade and is in critical condition.

We will ensure that the family receives the cards and wishes in a timely fashion. Please continue to hold the family in our hearts and prayers during these difficult times.

Rosemary Pezzuto,
CampFire USA CEO

Sylvia Amos Kyle

Sylvia Amos Kyle, long-time Greenbelt resident, died suddenly at home on Tuesday, May 19, 2015.

Mrs. Kyle was friendly and outgoing and will be deeply missed by many. She died just two days short of her 55th wedding anniversary and close to her 83rd birthday. Her husband Lee, now retired, was a scientist at Goddard Space Flight Center. In 1962 they moved to the 21 Court of Ridge Road to be close to his work and continued to live there. Between health problems and caring for her daughter, Mrs. Kyle stopped work in 1965 but remained active in various activities. For many years she and her husband were active members of Berwyn Presbyterian Church; they later joined the Greenbelt Community Church. She delivered meals on wheels for 40 years, was a member of the Greenbelt Homemakers Club and was a volunteer teacher's assistant for three elementary schools. She also was locally noted as an expert in such crafts as Christmas ornaments, miniature Christmas villages, miniature bead trees and needle art pictures.

Mrs. Kyle is survived by her husband, H. Lee Kyle; a daughter, Kathleen Basch; a granddaughter, Alyssa Basch; a brother, Carroll Amos; a nephew, Brian Amos; and other family members.

There will be a memorial service at 11 a.m. on Friday, June 19 at the Greenbelt Community Church.

Mishkan Torah Shows Film About Hunger

The Mishkan Torah Social Action Committee will show the film A Place at the Table on Sunday, May 31 at 5 p.m. The film covers the topic of hunger in America. According to the film, fifty million Americans — 1 in 4 children — do not know where their next meal is coming from.

A Place at the Table tells the stories of three such Americans, who maintain their dignity even as they struggle just to eat. It also demonstrates how the issue could be solved forever, once the American public decides—as they have in the past—that ending hunger is in everyone's best interests.

A discussion will follow the presentation. The event is free and the entire community is invited. Mishkan Torah is located at 10 Ridge Road in Greenbelt.

New Deal Café Hosts Artists Reception

On Sunday, June 7, from 3 to 5 p.m., there will be a reception at the New Deal Café in Roosevelt Center for the artists participating in the group art show that is currently on view. The show's theme is Water, in conjunction with the Green Man Festival earlier this month. The art on display includes work in a wide variety of media, depicting many ways of considering water as a subject. The public is invited to the reception to meet the artists and view their works.

The art exhibit program at the New Deal Café is sponsored by the Friends of New Deal Café Arts, with support from the City of Greenbelt. For further information, see the New Deal Café website, newdealcafe.com.

Beat the Heat With MakerSpace

As the weather heats up, we're reminded that we've adopted a STEAM curriculum at the Greenbelt MakerSpace, adding Arts to our lineup of technical topics in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math. So let's cool off and explore the arts with two new instructors hosting three new workshops starting this weekend.

Psychesdolls are powerful archetypal projective images that stir the waters and dig in the muck of our personal myths. Cynthia Swan will facilitate a group meetup on Sunday, May 31 from noon to 2 p.m. where you can create your own image. Supplies will be provided and you are invited to bring along any button, bead, ribbon, bangle or scrap of material (Think SCRAP, DC) that you love and wish to include in the making of your Psychesdolls. Future group meetings are planned for June 28 and July 26.

An Introduction to Watercolor Painting with pen and ink is a pair of three-session classes, one for kids, to be held Saturday, May 30, June 6 and June 13 at 2 p.m., and one for adults, scheduled for Sunday, May 31, June 7 and June 14 at 2 p.m. The art style ranges from abstract to semi-realistic. The instructor is Mary Ann Lipovsky, who shows her works with the Washington Metropolitan Artists Society and the Hyattsville Arts Alliance. She is an art instructor with the Prince George's Community College Senior Adults Growing through Education program (SAGE).

E. Roosevelt Teams Excel In Baseball and Softball

by Patrick Gleason

The peaks of the Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS) baseball team’s season were punctuated by key home runs. One of those moments involved archrival Bowie High School, whom the Raiders played only once this year because of the county’s rotating schedule. That made the teams’ sole meeting in April all the more important, and senior Griffin Devlin was up to the task. While the Raiders jumped to an early 1-0 lead, Bowie remained in contention until the sixth inning, when Devlin belted a three-run homer over the left field fence and put the Raiders ahead 9-2, en route to an 11-4 triumph.

In the county championship game on May 7, senior Quinn Valentich led Roosevelt on the mound, while senior Darius Ross starred at the plate. Ross wrapped up the ERHS county title with a walk-off grand slam that ended the game at 14-3, due to a ten-run mercy rule. Valentich, who had a 10-for-10 batting streak in April, senior centerfielder Jamiah Williams and junior Jacob Farmer were all key components to the Raiders’ lineup. Juniors Clark Reese and Tyler Chotoo and senior Jake Ewing highlighted a pitching staff that frustrated county offenses throughout their 19-2 season that ended in a difficult 6-4 loss to eventual region champion Wise. While Roosevelt will have to replace eight seniors, including catcher Robert Nicol, they will be returning four of their six top pitchers next season.

On the softball diamond, the Lady Raiders were motivated to avenge last year’s playoff loss to Bowie High School. Roosevelt did so by winning their first 21 games, including an early season win over Georgetown Visitation, two victories over Bowie—including a no-doubt 10-0 playoff triumph—and a region title-clinching 18-0 drubbing of Laurel.

Despite ending their season with a respectable 6-2 loss in the state semi-finals to the Northwest Jaguars, the Raiders left Bachman Park last Tuesday after an unfortunate series of events wondering “what if?”

In the third inning, Roosevelt star shortstop Alannah Baiyina crossed first base after a single then jammed her foot and collapsed in pain.

The Raiders had been energized by a 1-0 lead after senior Tory Kerdock turned an unassisted double play in the first inning and pitcher Joya Grillo scored a second-inning run after two stolen bases and two Northwest errors, but there was a visible momentum shift after the injury as coach Delton Fuller made the difficult decision to rotate four defensive players in order to replace Baiyina. Grillo moved to shortstop, and sophomore Renee Rodgers entered the pitcher’s circle.

The Jaguars capitalized on the defensive adjustments and pushed a sinking line drive to right field, clearing the loaded bases, but Roosevelt eventually settled in and continued to flash signs of hope.

Baiyina reentered the following inning, Grillo returned to frustrate Northwest batters, and Rodgers blasted a lead-off triple in the seventh inning, while later scoring on junior Nora Snyder’s single. But the damage was done.

Although the team took no consolation prize in their impressive season, recognition is still deserved.

Reception for Artist At Local Courthouse

during dual enrollment, along with credits for AP classes. Before that, she will be going on her ninth consecutive mission trip to Nicaragua, a week-long ministry during her summer vacation. She has built houses ravaged by hurricanes, passed out meals to children, and prayed with and for the people.

Anti-poverty

During a recent trip, Katie suggested a program to a community leader in Nicaragua to help local residents move out of poverty through vocational education. When the idea was affirmed, local resources were made available to help implement it.

Katie said on her application, “Some people believe community service is about the projects. While this may be true, I believe community service is about impacting people.” Her leadership and involvement in the TLC club helped initiate a paint-a-thon at Roosevelt in which the entire bleacher sections of the football/track complex were painted; more than 200 students participated. Later, TLC painted the curbs surrounding the school.

Free pizza parties were organized, hosted and well-attended, attracting students to hear inspiring messages from local community leaders. In her volunteer efforts, Katie has built personal relationships with orphans, hurricane victims, inmates and impoverished families.

Whether it is helping out at an orphanage in Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, or painting areas of need at her school, or inspiring others to run and do their best in their athletic arenas, or repairing homes in South Carolina for those in special need, or distributing life-saving meals, or delivering to a customer at our local deli a lovingly made chicken salad sub, Katie Warner is impacting lives in a positive and meaningful way. Katie is walking the walk and talking the talk of her faith journey.

“Sharing the hope of Jesus still moves me,” says Katie Warner.

Dog Park Association Discusses Improvements

by Amanda Leigh Brozana

On Tuesday, May 19 the Greenbelt Dog Park Association met at the Community Center to discuss recent and future improvements to the city park as well as other concerns.

Kris White, founder of the association, chaired the meeting, discussing with newer users the history of the organization and park and guiding the gathered members in reorganizing to act as a unified voice for users to the city.

Members of the association discussed concerns related to deteriorating fences and gates and requested thank you letters be sent to the city council, city manager and department of public works, as well as to the Schuylkill Haven Boy Scout Troop No. 625 for their recent efforts to improve the park.

The members also requested communications with the Greenbelt Animal Shelter staff who will hold a dog expo at the park June 6, requesting that both sides of the park be open during the expo for use of dogs to help mitigate concerns about potential aggression or injury to small dogs. Members of the group were also asked to volunteer during the expo to introduce new users and dogs to the park, to discuss etiquette and dog body language and to help monitor activities.

Amanda Leigh Brozana was elected interim president of the association until full elections can be held as per the bylaws at the annual meeting in October. Eva Fallon will serve as secretary and director of public relations/communications for the association.

A representative of the newly formed group gathering information and seeking to form a dog park in Cheverly also was in attendance to learn more about the Greenbelt park, association, concerns and benefits for community residents.

The association is working to create a website for users and those interested in the park and plans to publicly launch the site after the next meeting of the group.

More than 1,515 dog park permits have been issued since the park opened in the mid-1990s, and per the organization’s bylaws, all permitted users are members of the association. The next meeting will be held July 15 at 7 p.m. in the Community Center Senior Classroom and all members are encouraged to attend.

Anyone interested in learning more about the association can contact Brozana by email at albrozana@gmail.com or attend the upcoming meeting.

The project was completed by GTM Architects, Gardiner & Gardiner Contracting, EHT Traceries, and Cardinal Sound & Motion Picture Systems, with funding provided in part by Partners in Preservation, a joint grant program of American Express and the National Trust for Historic Preservation, The Maryland Historical Trust and private donors.

The renovation included new digital projection equipment, 35mm projectors, a restored lobby and ticket booth, restroom improvements and an enhanced concession area. Community leaders will be present for the celebration.

Friends of the Greenbelt Theatre was awarded a contract by the City of Greenbelt earlier this year to operate the Old Greenbelt Theatre as a non-profit community movie theater. Old Greenbelt Theatre is at the center of the National Historic Landmark district of Old Greenbelt, significant for its history as a planned community and a favorite project of President Franklin D. and First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt.

This is a picture that was taken in 1940 of the Center.

We Celebrate Elaine Skolnik

The following is the last in a series of vignettes about Elaine Skolnik written in November 1987 by her friends and colleagues over the years. They celebrate the 60-plus years Elaine has been on the staff as president of the board of directors, reporter and news editor of the Greenbelt News Review. The News Review will honor Elaine at a luncheon at the Greenbelt Marriott on Saturday, May 30.

Our Model

Elaine’s enthusiasm and total dedication to the Greenbelt News Review and this community have been an inspiration to us in the years we have known her.

In her are combined the dedication, strength and energy of the modern woman with the sensitivity and elegance of the traditional lady.

As newcomers, we found her commitment to the community infectious. In many ways she has been our model for involvement in the community.

Motorcycle Crash Kills Young Boy

Greenbelter Alejandro Santos, age 7, died on May 23 after a motorcycle crashed into him, two other children and an adult. The accident occurred about 4 p.m. while Santos and the others were standing on the sidewalk on East West Highway waiting to cross the street near the Mall at Prince Georges, according to the police report.

The report states that the motorcycle collided with a car that was making a left turn into the mall. While the rider was thrown from the motorcycle, the motorcycle itself hit the pedestrians.

Investigation into the crash continues. Preliminary reports say that speed of the motorcycle was a factor.

Alejandro attended Springhill Lake Elementary School and lived in Franklin Park. According to friends of the family, Alejandro's brother, Leonardo, was also injured and is still in the hospital.

Prince George's County Police Department asks that anyone with information about this collision contact the department's Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Unit at 301-731-4422. Callers wishing to remain anonymous may call Crime Solvers at 1-866-411-TIPS (8477).

Greenbelt Memorial Day Honors Those Who Died

by Kathleen McFarland

Under sunny blue skies, American Legion Post 136 Commander Mike Moore greeted the crowd and led this year's Memorial Day program. First, he introduced Marge Gallun, a Marine veteran now in her 90's, who had been Post 136's first woman commander.

Mayor Pro Tem Judith Davis, who has been present at many Legion ceremonies, gave an inspiring talk, urging all Americans to support our service men and women and to remember those who are no longer with us. County Councilmember Todd Turner and State Delegate Anne Healey also greeted the audience, giving short talks before presenting proclamations honoring the day. The men of the Hometown USA Chorus sang patriotic numbers.

The main speaker was Msgr. Karl Chimiak, a soldier priest now retired and a member of Post 136. He is currently pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Beltsville, chaplain of the Archdiocese of Washington Knights of Columbus and chaplain of the Maryland State Police for Prince George's and St. Mary's counties. His stirring speech touched the audience, especially when he told of his period of active duty in Desert Storm, when his job was to comfort the families of those killed in action.

Wreaths were placed at the war memorial on the hill while taps was played by the Legion's trumpeter Steven Matera. This year, the rifle team was composed of a special trio, three generations of the Gigliotti family of Greenbelt. Chief Warrant Officer Vincent J. Gigliotti served in World War II in both the 101st Airborne and the 82nd Airborne divisions; he made a combat jump into New Guinea in 1943.

His son, Gregory V. Gigliotti, has just returned from a three-year tour of duty in Fort Huachuca, Ariz., as senior warrant officer military intelligence advisor for the Army National Guard. He previously served two tours in Kosovo and one tour in Bosnia. He will retire in June.

Greg's son, Jake A. Gigliotti, an E-7 gunnery sergeant, has been in the Marine Corps for 12 years. He served two tours in Iraq and one in Afghanistan in a Civil Affairs unit. With Vincent's 42 years of service, Greg's 42 years and Jake's 12 years, the Gigliotti family has contributed over 96 years of service in defense of our nation.

Benefitted Home Front

The family's service has benefitted those of us on the home front as well. Greg's wife Kathy, who carried the Legion Auxiliary wreath at the Memorial Day program, is an inspirational military mother, wife and daughter-in-law.

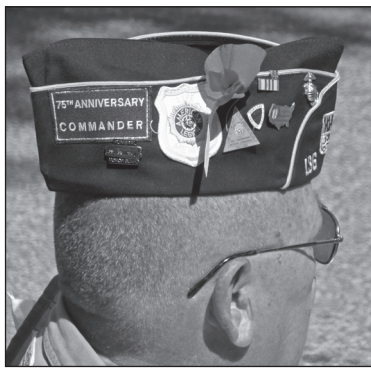

As a reservist in the Army National Guard, Greg worked as a firefighter in the Prince George's County Fire Department, retiring as captain. His son Jake, a graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, is following in his dad's footsteps, also working for the county fire department as a firefighter/medic while in the Marine Corps reserve. This is truly a family of which Greenbelt can be proud.

Five wreaths were laid at the War Memorial.

At the close of the Memorial Day ceremony, many in the audience accepted the Legion's invitation to a buffet luncheon at the Post Home, an opportunity to say thank you in person to the veterans and to meet program participants. The Chorus provided upbeat old-time music.
